Notes for Applicants:

- Wherever possible BioGro products shall be purchased in preference to imported products if available in sufficient quantity and quality.
- If not available as BioGro certified, products certified as organic by an IFOAM accredited certifier shall be sought as first preference.
- If not available as IFOAM accredited, products certified organic by a USDA accredited or EU recognised certifier shall be sourced.
- All imported organic products must be accompanied by a transaction certificate issued by the certifier of origin assuring the current organic status of the consignment for which recertification is sought.
- Producer Certificates must be current and these certificates must state all scopes of production for which the operator supplying goods is certified for.
- If you intend to sell or repackage your products as BioGro certified, then you will need to gain recertification for each new consignment.
- Fumigated products may not be sold as BioGro certified organic.

BioGro endeavours to process approvals as quickly as possible. However, please note that requests for information from certifiers not accredited by IFOAM may take some time to process.
